Pin to the body the tail and legs.
Pin to the head the ears. It is very important to be sure, before sewing, where are going to be each piece. Sew the legs and tail.

The ears go a little behind the first rows of the head (see photo). Mark with pins where are going to be the nose and eyes. (I fit the eyes between rows 7 and 8, at 6 or 8 st of each other, and the nose is one row down, at center).

If you are going to embroider the eyes, like me, you can, (if you like), to push "to the inside" the eyes a little, going with the needle (with black thread or with the same colour of the kitten) through the head, all the way to the neck, securing it with an invisible stitch.
If you are going to use safety eyes you must fit them before stuffing the head (at row 20).
You can use any yarn you like, or many, as a stash buster. You can make the tail and body with stripes too.
